This was of course denied by the officials of the track and, as previously stated in the column, the charact of the Grange Camp Fair Association holds good until January I. 1896. In order to revoke the charter the Governor of the State of Virginia would have to call an extra session of the legislature, which would cost that State on enormous sum of money.

Three Hundred Lads Enjoy Their Annual Christmas Dinner.

SOME GIRLS WERE THERE, TOO

Feast Prepared by the Newsboys' and Children's Aid Society.

Generous Contributions from Many Fources-The Youngsters Did Themselves Credit by Their Cond Conduct and Vindicated the Entire Reliability of Their Appetites -Favors Distributed Indiser minutely.

Nearly 300 newsboys and a few girls were fortified yesterday for their labors of the week with the material and spiritual blessings of an excellent Christmas dinner given them by the Newsboys' and Children Aid Society in the hall of United Division, Chapter 8, Knights of Pythias, who made this their contribution to the great charity. The hall was very prettily decorated with United States flags and streamers of red, white and blue, there being tables enough to accommodate 250 boys at one sitting. In addition to these nearly flfty boys were entertained at the second table.

Everybody knows the capacity of a newsboy, and especially for a dinner of roast turkey, mashed potatoes, turnips, mince ple, pumpkin pie, and cake and ice cream on the side. The noble three hundred made their charge on the military principle, slightly paraphrased, of getting in deepest with the paraphrases, of getting in despect with the most fingers, knives, forks, spoons, or any-thing else handy. The roast turkey was swept off the face of the earth in the space that dystepsia sets to kill the rising and sei-ting generation, with, of course, the mince ring generation, with, of course, the mince pie and pumpkin pie as accessories after the fact. The whole story of the newsboys' Christmas dinner is in the statement that they went in to enjoy themselves and did it COMPREHENSIVELY AND RESERVEDLLY.

The charity is a great credit to the organication by which the dinner was give; and also to the many kind hearted people, who gave their time and money to its success. The Rev. Dr. Little made a brief address on the meaning of the charity to the boys. The blessing was asked by Dr. Childs. The Rev. Dr. Parsons was also present. The committee on the dinner was composed
